"Ponzi did not use the mails as openly as it is often the case. He started business in a small way, depending on reinvestments from his customers and on the word that would be passed."

Craved Publicity

"He did not dare advertise in the newspapers and we did not want to make it known we were investigating his business, for the publicity was just what he needed. When the story of his operations first got into newspapers, he welcomed it, for it gave him a chance to get before the public. It was during the past few weeks that he collected the greater part of the millions that trusting persons turned over to him."

Ponzi, the inspector said, once was in an exporting business in a small way and it was probably thus engaged that he learned of international reply coupons. His oft repeated explanation of how he could manipulate them at a tremendous profit probably sounded plausible to many people not acquainted with postal regulations, but postoffice officials he said, knew it was impossible.

The department's investigation, he added, had extended to all sections of the country and throughout Europe, and although he was unwilling to discuss evidence collected, he declared dealings in international reply coupons was not responsible for Ponzi's millions.

Ponzi went to his home at Lexington tonight and announced he would make no statement. The house was under close surveillance.

WARSAW, Aug. 12.—Warsaw was stirred tonight when a battalion of women marched through the main streets on their way to the front to take up a share in the capital's defense. Each woman carried a rifle and ammunition. The women already have been under fire, participating in the defense of Vilna, where they suffered more than 60 casualties.

COX EXPONENT OF PEACE BY REASON INSTEAD OF FORCE

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 12.—Governor Cox opened his campaign travels today with an address at the national rifle competition, urged continued American interest in marksmanship but honorable settlement of national disputes without war. "Peace by arbitration of reason rather than force," was the vision he gave an audience of soldiers, sailors and citizens.

Without specific reference to the league of nations, Governor Cox said he believed universal peace was for prevention of war by amicable settlement. "I believe every home in America," he added, "indulges the hope and breathes the prayer that we will never again engage in war. If, with honor, we can keep out of war, can we not catch vision of it as we face toward the future?"

The governor received much applause in his reference to world peace and also when he declared that the government should bestow commissions won by Americans in the war and not received before their discharge.

This was "governor's day" at Camp Perry and the governor presented to Captain C. J. Vanamberg, Bridgeport, Conn., a silver vase, the Ohio executive's trophy in the rifle contest. Captain Vanamberg made 149 hits out of 150 shots.

Before his address, Governor Cox viewed the rifle contests in action. He became so interested that he took off his coat and for the first time tried his hand behind a clay pigeon trap. He scored eight hits out of fourteen, but by using the second barrel on four.

Another appeal to Democrats of the Tennessee legislature to ratify the woman's suffrage amendment was sent tonight by the governor. On a receipt

Enoch Arden Has Living Parallel In Cripple Creek

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Aug. 12.—Walking 30 miles over the mountains in a rainstorm when a wash-out halted his train on the Colorado Midland, William Ziensenhene rejoined his wife and family today after 18 years absence during which Mrs. Ziensenhene has remarried and been widowed by death. The man had suffered loss of memory for twelve years.

Ziensenhene said he left his family 18 years ago to go to Silverton where a mining boom was on. At Tremble Springs, he sent a note home telling his wife not to worry. The next thing he remembered he was in a Los Angeles hospital, suffering from an injury to his head.

He couldn't recall his identity and was unable to earn a living, so he joined a band of hoboes. Six years ago his memory suddenly returned. He started for Cripple Creek and at Denver learned his wife had remarried, thinking him dead. He returned to Chicago and amassed a comfortable competence. Last Saturday he learned his wife's second husband, David Proffitt had died. He immediately started for home.

Ziensenhene's son George is now 22. Another son, born just after he left home, is 18. Asked if a second ceremony would be performed, Mrs. Ziensenhene replied "why? Weren't we married 23 years ago?"

of a message from Governor Roberts of Tennessee, Governor Cox replied: "The platform presented to the country by a political party is not only an evidence of its policy but it carries the specification which will be rendered if the opportunity presents. In the modern and better day of American politics, it is regarded as a promissory note. The national Democratic convention declared for the principal of woman suffrage and pledged the party to an earnest effort toward its adoption. The Democracy of Tennessee has the chance to redeem the pledges given."

SAN CARLOS ASS'N MAKES ADVANCE

see the project actually under construction and pledging himself to active co-operation in the work of bringing about this consummation.

The meeting was then turned over to the candidates who were present. These were introduced by Judge Baughn, and as they were called in alphabetical order without regard to party affiliations there was no friction in this "political free-for-all," as it had been called by the committee in charge. All the candidates made a favorable impression, especially since each of them boasted for the San Carlos project.

Sports Program

While the big meeting was in progress a sports program was held in the high school grounds for the children. After the meeting had adjourned a baseball game was played between teams representing Florence and Casa Grande in which the latter won by a 2 to 0 score.

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening there was a carnival of water sports in the high school swimming pool, and at 8:30 o'clock a dance was given by the Florence Woman's club. This ended the day's festivities.

Commenting after the meeting on the work of the day members of the committee declared that the results of the conference were of the utmost importance, and that the construction of the San Carlos dam had been brought much nearer. Aside from the enthusiasm of the meeting and the proofs that the project has been made of state-wide interest during the past year, these members drew particular attention to the fact that the completion of the project has been given, after years of effort, the commendation of the reclamation service, with every indication that it will have become a reality within a very few years.

Note Diversion Dam

This latter consideration is strengthened, it was declared, by the authorization of the diversion dam which is designed to give water to about 35,000 acres in the Florence-Casa Grande valley and for which bids will be opened on August 18.

Among the features of the day at Florence was the display of two special automobiles to the celebration by The Republican. One, a Haynes car, was the official press car of this newspaper, and carried representatives of the editorial, business and circulation departments, while the other was used by the official photographers.

EXPECT RESULTS IN MEXICO

MEXICALI, Lower California, Aug. 12.—Definite events are expected within the next three or four days in the situation caused by the revolt of Esteban Cantu, governor of the northern district of Lower California, against the provisional Mexican government.

Observers of the situation count as factors in possible developments the embarkation of about 1,000 federal troops from Mazatlan, supposedly for Ensenada in Lower California last Tuesday and the reported departure of 3,000 other federals, all Yaqui Indians for San Luis, at the head of the Gulf of California.

BUBONIC VICTIM IN TEXAS

COUNTRY'S NEED IS STRONG EXECUTIVE

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—Governor Calvin Coolidge, addressing the Republican club of Massachusetts tonight said that in these troublesome times "no man or party ought to be rash enough to promise performance of plans for long in advance" but this is not excuse for failure to do our best. He praised Senator Harding as a "sound man, tried in the fire of public service, unworried and unafraid."

"We must look to the past for guidance," he said. "But to ourselves for success. Despair the past is to destroy the future. It is not in a desire for constant change, but satisfaction in the contemplation of established truth, as well as unyielding effort for improvement, that character in men and parties is revealed."

"It is possible to restore our government to a more even balance. Representative government ceases to reflect any opinion but its own or result from any influence, save a desire to promote public welfare.

"There is need of a strong executive, but there is need of a correspondingly strong congress. And the greatest need of all is that each co-operate."

REDS ATTACK PULASKI

WARSAW, Aug. 12.—A great battle is being fought in the vicinity of Pulaski, about 35 miles north of Warsaw, where the bolsheviks have launched a violent attack intended to oust the Poles from the town "at any price."

Today's communique says the volunteer Polish regiment counter attacked with bayonets. Heavy fighting on various other parts of the front is reported. The bolsheviks are continuing their efforts to cross the Sereth river, but have been repulsed with heavy losses.

SUGAR DROPS FOUR CENTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Heavy decreases in the sugar market forecasted by movements during the past few days took place today. One large dealer reduced his list price on the fine granulated from 21 to a fraction over 17 cents a pound and raw sugar sold on a basis of 13.94 cents, 10 cents less than the high level of three months ago.

Holders of large stocks of sugar expressed the fear that they had over-stayed the market. Dealers declared the weakness is due to lack of demand for refined sugar, free offering and a feeling of unrest.

KANSAS WRESTLER INJURED

EMPORIA, Kan., Aug. 12.—Joe Schackley of Ogden, Utah, who was injured here last night when he fell through the ropes to the floor during a wrestling match, was still unconscious tonight, and physicians expressed little hope for his recovery. He suffered a concussion of the brain. Officers said tonight that no action would be taken against Jack Fisher of Emporia, his opponent.
